UNION NOT RECOGNIZED

NO DISCRIMINATION AGAINST THE MEMBERS OF UNION .- SECRET BALLOT TO BE TAKEN.

Western Newspaper Union News Bervies,

Pueblo.-Granting practically every point which any labor union ever asked, with the one exception of recognition of the union, which, he says, is not an impossible thing of the fu-ture, and voluntarily offering certain betterments in advance of union de mands, even to the promise of a peri-odical to report the doings of company and employes, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., gave out here to a meeting of miners representing his employes the text of the "Rockefeller Industrial Plan" by which he and his associates hope to bring about permanent industrial peace in the mining camps of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company. In brief the Rockefeller plan for continuance of friendly relations between the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company and its employes is as follows;

Wages always in proportion to those paid in other competitive districts.

Opportunity to air grievances, real fancied, and the broadest scheme of arbitration where company and men cannot get together.

The right of the men to belong to labor unions if they wish, and no disgrimination against them if they do.

No discharges of men except for violations of printed and posted rules or of state laws, and then usually only after a second offense.

The company and the men each to choose representatives to frequent conferences at which all questions of working and living conditions, social and industrial betterment, camp sanitation, doctors and hospitals, mine safety, education and recreation shall be discussed.

A system of appeals on grievances either real or fancied, by which an employé may take his case to various of floors of the company, and even to the State Industrial Commission for set-Assurance that the company heads will at all times work with the men for the communal good, and invite auggestions, criticisms and complaints which are for the common welfare.

The plan was presented by Mr. Rockefeller in person to represent-atives of the miners from every Colorado Fuel and Iron Company camp in the state. The representatives were elected by the workmen themselves at secret meetings from which all com pany representatives were barred. The plan as proposed calls for the continuance of this representative system in dealings between employé and em ployer, and the same secrecy which the employes enjoyed in choosing the men to represent them at yesterday's conference will be adhered to, as it is a part of the new Rockefeller pian.

After a thorough discussion the plan was adopted. It will now be referred for approval to the board of directors of the company on the one hand and to the company's miners at the several camps on the other hand. If the plan is adopted by both factions it becomes binding and will be recog nized virtually as a constitution for the new "government of labor and capital' in the company's mines in
